When you purchase AnyLogic, you get Order ID number from The AnyLogic Company license department or a distributor:

- If you purchased AnyLogic via wire transfer, get the “order id” from the invoice.
- If you purchased AnyLogic paying online via Element 5, use Element 5 “reference number” as the “order id”.
- If you purchased AnyLogic via distributor, they should have provided you with the “order id”.

i You must provide a valid email address to receive the permanent key.

3 [This step is only applicable to AnyLogic University Edition]

Choose the License type you want to get (Regular or Educational).

4 [This step is only applicable to AnyLogic University Edition]

If you request this key for your home computer or laptop, select the corresponding check box I am requesting a key for my home computer/laptop.

5 If you are using proxy, click the Proxy settings button. This will open the Proxy Settings dialog, where you can configure your connection settings.

- 6 Click Next after you have provided the information. Shortly after this you will receive a confirmation email. The email with an actual permanent key will be sent in a separate email later.
- 7 After you receive your permanent key, use it to activate the product.

To activate AnyLogic with permanent key

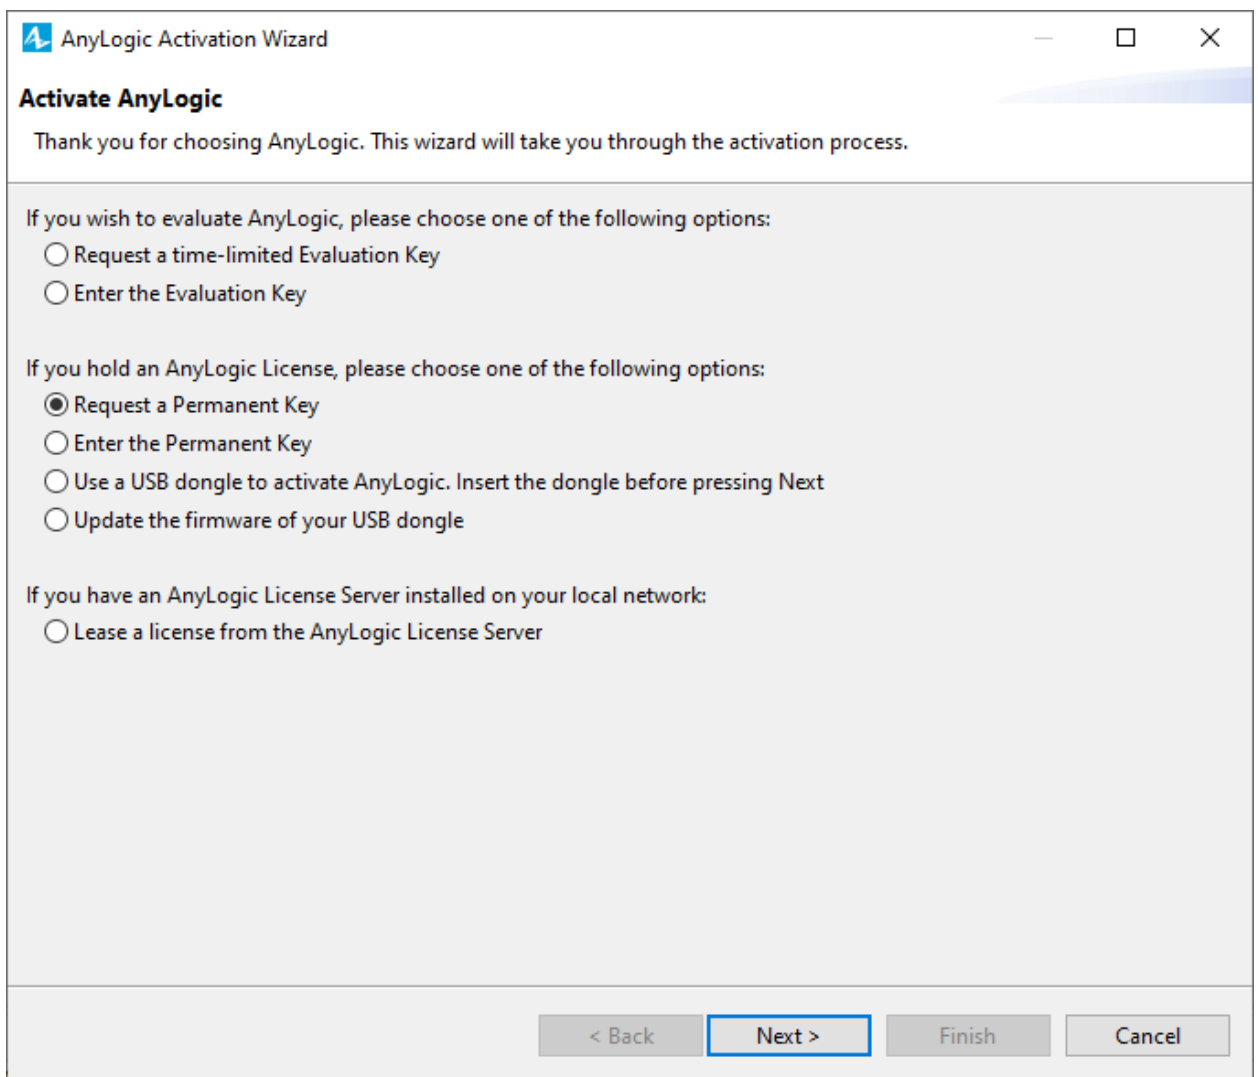

- 1 Copy the permanent key you have received by email to the Clipboard.
- 2 Run AnyLogic.
- 3 If your product hasn't been licensed yet, AnyLogic Activation Wizard will open automatically. Otherwise (for example, if you've been evaluating AnyLogic and want to switch to permanent license), go to Help > Activate Product to open the activation wizard.
- 4 In the AnyLogic Activation Wizard, select the Enter the Permanent Key option and click Next.
